

PARK MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED

L. N. Rosenbaum, New York financier, who started his business career in Seattle, will return here September 12 to dedicate a memorial chapel in Herzl Memorial Park to honor the memory of his mother.

The chapel, designed by Architect B. Marcus Priteca and built at a cost of $7,000, will be called the Fani Rosenbaum Memorial in memory of Rosenbaum's mother, who died twenty-seven years ago. In public ceremonies, P. Allen Rickles will accept the concrete building for the Herzl Congregation and Rabbi Philip A. Langh will make the formal dedication.

Herzl Memorial Park is at North 165th Street, off the Seattle-Everett Highway.
